

Systems
Of Equations

What are the three main ways of solving systems of equations?

How are systems of equations used in the real world?
Give two examples.

What are the limits of the graphing method of solving?

Which method are you strongest in? Which one do you struggle with?

How would you teach someone who is struggling with your preferred method?

What does the solution to a system reveal about that system?